Off-Center Mint Error Sales

by Al Levy (alcoins.com)

Off-Center Market Lincoln Wheatback Cent

Collectors are aware that most of these dates are nearly impossible to find. They are willing to substitute off centers with broadstrikes or partial collars. It is not unusual to find these error types mixed within a collection. The collector will purchase these dated error types that fill the void in their collection. Some dates take decades before one shows up for sale.

Scan through the back issues of Mint Error News Magazine to look up prices realized for the early Lincoln off-centers. The closer to the 50% off center with a full date and mintmark, the more money is paid. The color of the coin is a major price factor. Almost each quarter 1956-D and 1957-D are sold on eBay. None sold! A few were offered in low grades but failed to sell due to prices asked. The major auction houses have been selling these in high grades for way more than they sold on eBay in the past.

Since the grading services started listing problem coins as "Genuine", there has been an influx of these being offered on eBay. This site is becoming a dumping ground for inferior coins. Lots of scratched, cleaned and questionable items are showing up regularly. When the sellers states "you grade", might be a good time to stay away from the item.

A 1c 1975 PCGS MS68 sold for $317.78 50% off center. Color was not listed on the holder but looked like it was Red. For $545.00 a 5c 200(4) with no mintmark area sold. Then a 25c CA 200(5) with no mintmark in Unc sold for $756.00. How many have you seen?

Reader of my charts must understand that some of the listings on eBay may have been overlooked. This is a guide only. What if the previous reported sale price sold because the seller listed it as a "Buy it now"? Or, the lot was misdescribed? There are numerous factors to consider when reading charts. One major thing to consider is my charts show coins sold exclusively on eBay.

The date collector knows the true market for error types. They do not follow coins sold on eBay exclusively. They frequent shows. Subscribe to most auction catalogs. Solicit error dealers with their want lists. Many times these collectors accept coins in which the percentage of off center is minor since this is all that is available.

Here are records of recent sales of off-center mint errors on eBay from July 1, 2010 to September 30, 2010.

1. All lots had buyers. If the coins actually changed hands is unknown.
2. A picture accompanied each lot or it was not recognized.
3. Mislabeled items were ignored.
4. Some lots may have changed hands more than once.
5. "D" next to the date symbolizes that the coin had damage or was scratched.
6. "C" next to the date symbolizes that the coin was cleaned.
7. "B" next to the date symbolizes that the coin had damage and was cleaned.
8. If the date or mint mark was missing or partially visible, parentheses were used.
9. Postage/handling/insurance fees were ignored.
10. Major auctions were not listed.

Double Denomination & Off-Metal Error Sales

There are date collectors for off metals. Completing this may not be possible. For the collector that has been looking for specific dates to come on the market may have been waiting for decades. So, it is not unusual to see an MS64 example sell for the same price as an AU55. If you do not stretch for this coin, it may not show up on the market for another decade.

Off metals have a very high eye appeal. Cents struck on dime planchets have always peaked collectors interests. Same with nickels or quarters struck on cent planchets. Check out the price variance between an example that sells that has a brown color to one that is a full red. The red coin may bring twice the price due to EYE APPEAL!

Multiple errors on off metals are highly desirable. There may only be one example of an off metal struck off center. Or, double struck plus off metal.

Double Denomination & Off-Metal Error Sales

Common are the 25c 1970-D on 10c stock planchet. Try and find examples for other years or on other denominations. These are very under rated and under valued error types. Some collectors hope to determine that these errors are actually struck on a foreign blank.

Check out the price differences for the 1970-D 10c struck on dime stock.

The better the picture, the higher the bid. When the seller lists the coin and states: "You Grade It", chances are the coin was cleaned or scratched. (Some of the grades listed below are a guess on my behalf.)

The problem with eBay, there are many coins being sold as off metals, off stock. See my chart below "Counterfeits/Questionable errors."

Clad Layer Split-Off Mint Error Sales

by Al Levy (alscoins.com)

“Clad layers off” are very popular due to the statehood quarter issues. There are a few collectors trying to complete a type set of obverse and reverse. This inflates the market on a temporary basis. Once the hole in their collection is filled, additional examples sell for way less. Compare this quarters’ sales to last quarters’ for the statehood quarters. Good example how sale prices lowered. If the coin shows a red copper color, it will bring a very high price compared to a brown. Buyers on eBay must be careful when trying to purchase these by scan only. Some pictures have been doctored and the sellers do not grade or describe these coins. Therefore, the information listed below may not be 100% accurate. The buyers must ask questions prior to bidding. Such as: What is the weight? Is the color natural? What is your return policy?

Here are records of recent sales on eBay from July 1, 2010 to September 30, 2010.

Wisconsin Quarter “Extra Leaves”

by Al Levy (alscoins.com)

Last quarter I reported that the low and high leaf Wisconsin quarters were selling around the same price level. This quarter the prices have lowered. Still, hundreds of these listed remain unsold. The High Leafs are suppose to be the rarest. The price variance between the high and low are very close if sold raw. Last quarter it was reported that the low Leaf raw coins sold for less in uncirculated than the circulated. This quarter the spread is normal, however both grades lost value. In circulated grade, the low leaf brought a higher price than the high leaf.

Here are records of recent sales on eBay from July 1, 2010 to September 30, 2010.

Waffled Coin Sales

by Al Levy (alscoins.com)

Waffled coins. These are a very interesting type. The grading services will body bag coins damaged or cleaned. However, if the Mint waffles them, they show up holdered an even graded. Now that more “bins” have been bypassing the smelters pot, prices have really been dropping. There are collectors trying to put together complete sets of the statehood quarters and Presidential dollars.

The original slabbed coins had the insert state the coins were “Waffle Cancelled”. The newer slab’s insert read “Mint Cancelled”. They should all be tagged as “Genuine.”

Bin fulls of “Red Tanks Marked - Sweeps” hit the market. This was previously reported as a rumor. Looks like it came true. One reason there are so many of the “webbings” available. Bowtie scrap is being sold by the pound. Proof issues are starting to show up. These are being offered to dealers at major conventions.

Blank Planchets

by Al Levy (alscoins.com)

Blanks are very popular. But, buyer beware. Many of the blanks selling on eBay are of foreign origin. The Mexican 50 Pesos is a good example as it resembles a USA half dollar. These are being marketed as 90% silver blanks. Another thing to watch for are US silver dollar blanks. The ones being offered may actually be blanks intended for bullion. Buyers must ask questions prior to purchasing. Ask the seller for edge descriptions. Also, weight.

Rotated Reverse

by Al Levy (alscoins.com)

Most rotated reverse errors listed on eBay the seller fails to mention the percentage of rotation. Other times, no mention if they are clockwise (CW) or counterclockwise (CCW). The grading services omit the same information on their labels. Many of these sold have been ignored as I do not have the time trying to figure out what actually sold. Grading services may only list that the coin has die rotation with no degrees notated. Medalllic rotation means the reverse is rotated 180 degrees. The most desirable rotated coins are the Morgan and Peace dollar series. These bring very strong prices. Two cent pieces are the opposite, as they are very common in degree of rotation and are easily found.

Double Struck Double Dated

by Al Levy (alscoins.com)

A very underrated error type is the double strikes with two full dates and mintmarks. Only recently have these error types been bringing strong prices. Not only are they rare, but the coins have a special eye appeal. Find a Lincoln cent that is a full red color with a flipover 2nd strike, and the date and mintmark shows on both sides. Watch what the coin sells for.

This grouping of sales consists of items sold that normally are not found priced in any of the grey sheets. Nor, can be found in published books showing specialty items. If prices are listed in books, when the book hits the market, these prices are out of date.

Many of these lots are third party slabbed and graded. Others, may be too big to fit in holders due to the error. Or, multiple errors not found or listed anywhere else. Currency and foreign errors are also included.

Counterfeit & Questionable Errors

by Al Levy (alscoins.com)

Almost every day there are items listed for sale that are “questionable”. Some are counterfeits, others may be altered to resemble errors. Some collectors buy these knowing what they are. If cheap, these fit into the person’s collection. Other buyers are just taken. The lot number along with the sellers’ description have been included in each of my notations. I have included my opinion as to why these items are placed in this grouping. If anyone reading this disagrees with me, please let me know.

Lots with sales under $10.00 are ignored.

Here are records of recent sales on eBay from July 1, 2010 to September 30, 2010.

Presidential Dollar Mint Error Sales

by Al Levy (alscoins.com)

Missing edge lettering: The George Washington dollars have dropped in value since my last report. John Adams dollars have decreased again. The double edge lettering John Adams dollars are changing hands at lower prices. PCGS and NGC prices dropped slightly. Raw examples dropped in value. A few Satin Finish examples have shown up on eBay that are MEL.

Various other Presidential smooth edge dollars that are Unc and (SMS) satin finish are being offered. These Satin Finish examples are found in Special Mint Sets that are suppose to be scrutinized by the mint employees at each process. Partial edge lettering and weak edge lettering errors have all gone down in price. This includes the ones found in (SMS) special mint sets.

PCGS Certifies Washington Dollar Struck on 5¢ Planchet

by Mike Byers (mikebyers.com)

There are only two known off-metals in the Presidential Dollar series. Recently PCGS authenticated and certified this Washington Dollar struck on a U.S. Nickel planchet. It graded Mint State 66 and is a visually stunning and dramatic mint error.

The other off-metal Presidential dollar is a John Quincy Adams struck on a U.S. Nickel planchet. It was also authenticated and certified by PCGS as a Mint State 67.

Considering that four years have passed (2007, 2008, 2009 & 2010) and millions of each Presidential Dollar have been struck, it is amazing that these two are the only off-metals reported.

Presentation Set of Federal Reserve Proofs

From The Heritage Auction Listing:

Presentation Set of Federal Reserve Proofs

Ten Note Federal Reserve Proof Presentation Set Number 1, Presented by Secretary of the Treasury William G. McAdoo on December 21, 1914. On December 23, 1913, President Woodrow Wilson signed into law the Federal Reserve Act, which transformed the American monetary system and is now about to celebrate its one hundredth birthday. Soon thereafter, Joseph E. Ralph, the Director of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, was assigned the task of designing and producing the new Federal Reserve Notes. During the next year, various prototype designs were produced until a standardized design was finalized in the Fall of 1914. As a part of the design process, a small quantity of Proof examples was produced. These Proofs were printed from the actual currency plates on to card stock, with the Treasury seal and the all zero serial numbers glued on by hand by the pressman. On the back of each Proof the official "Proofing Room" number was imprinted in light blue ink.

In a letter dated October 28, 1914, a copy of which is included with this lot, Director Ralph presented the Secretary of the Treasury, William G. McAdoo, with a Proof note for the new $5 denomination, informing the Secretary that the first Federal Reserve Notes would bear the "Richmond Federal Reserve District" seal.

Gene Hessler, in his book U.S. Essay, Proof & Specimen Notes, states that the 1916 "Annual Report of the Bureau of Engraving & Printing" notes that only two complete sets of Proofs were produced, although it is likely that either two more sets were unofficially created or that other Proofs were combined to make at least two more sets, as four complete sets are said to exist today.

This however, is the very first set produced, and comes with the card which accompanied the set when it was presented to the Honorable Joseph E. Ralph, Director of the Bureau of Engraving & Printing, by Treasury Secretary McAdoo on December 21, 1914.

The set consists of ten pieces, a Richmond district front of each of the five denominations along with a back for each of the five denominations. All have been encapsulated in custom holders and graded by PMG, with the grades of each as follows: $5 Front Proof Gem Uncirculated 66 EPQ, $5 Back Proof Superb Gem 67 EPQ, $10 Face Proof Gem Uncirculated 66 EPQ, $10 Back Proof Gem Uncirculated 66 EPQ, $20 Face Proof Gem Uncirculated 66 EPQ, $20 Back Proof Choice Uncirculated 64, $50 Face Proof Superb Gem Uncirculated 67 EPQ, $50 Back Proof Choice Uncirculated 64, $100 Face Proof Gem Uncirculated 66 EPQ, $100 Back Proof Gem Uncirculated 65 EPQ.

With the Federal Reserve System in the news virtually every day for the past two years, and with public interest in the Fed at an all time high, this magnificent set, which is missing from even the Smithsonian Institution or the Fed itself, is a veritable founding document from the Federal Reserve System's earliest days, and this set of Proofs, the first set of Federal Reserve Notes ever produced, a true national treasure which no amount of money could ever duplicate. Estimate: $60,000 - up.

World Errors

by Martin Wettmark

I wanted to share these world errors that I've recently purchased with the readers of Mint Error News Magazine. The first one is a 1704 French 1/2 Écu triple struck on an already struck 1/2 Écu from 1691!!! The other is a mated pair 1/2 Mark in silver from Germany. The coins are from 1918. I wonder, could they be the oldest mated pair known??

Proof U.S. Quarter Struck Over Canadian Quarter

A very small group of Proof errors recently came from a collection that was auctioned by the State of California. The U.S. Secret Service inspected and released this collection to the State of California determining that it was legal to own. The State of California then auctioned the collection and it has been dispersed since the sale. This 1970-S Proof Washington Quarter struck over a 1941 Canadian Quarter was part of that collection and was certified by NGC. There are only a few known U.S. coins struck over Canadian coins. This is a dramatic mint error since it involves two different countries and 29 years between strikes.

Books on Foreign Errors

by Martin Wettmark

When I published my small book about error coins in Sweden in 1991 I knew of only one other book made outside North America, a book from Switzerland that came out in 1988. The increasing interest in collecting error coins is reflected by a lot of books published in the last 10-15 years. Certainly the internet has had importance in boosting error coin collecting globally. Here I will list error coin books from other nations outside US. It is a pity that no book has a summary or word list in English (not even mine), but most have nice pictures on types of errors. Here I want to especially mention Jean-Claude Chorts book about French error coins, which was released in 2009. The book contains nice pictures of how different errors are made. I think it is one of the best books made about error coins. Most of these books can be found on Ebay or Amazon.com.

My Swedish book is out of print and is hard to find. One thing I think is worth mentioning is that there is no book published yet in Great Britain or Australia even though I know that there are a lot of error collectors there. This list may not be complete and therefore I am always happy for information about book articles about world error coins. I know that there is a book about Mexican Error Coins (have not found any copy of it!) and a catalog that includes a big section about Canadian Error Coins. Mike Byers' beautiful book Worlds Greatest Mint Errors is not listed here since his work mainly refers to US error coins.

WORLD PAPER MONEY ERRORS

Editor's Note: Zyrus Press publishes a new book on World Paper Money Errors.

World Paper Money Errors Explored!

Odd shapes, upside down prints, intriguing cuts and folds, and missing design elements are only a few of the different printing errors examined in this expansive collection on foreign error notes. World Paper Money Errors is a visually compelling avenue into the fascinating and rarely explored area of numismatics that expands on the hobby of collecting paper currency.

Author Morland Fischer's comprehensive collection reflects the attraction and advantages of exploring foreign printing errors. An overview of collecting paper money errors in today's numismatic market offers insights on the great disparity between domestic and world notes. Market values are discussed, acknowledging what variables make an error note precious in the trade. Incorporating these concepts and more, Fischer expands the method of collecting currency errors by introducing a Foreign Error Note (FEN) scale to gauge price levels based on error type.

With over 200 examples of dramatic, colorful and intriguing foreign paper money errors, collectors and spectators alike are exposed to a new form of collecting currency. The numismatic community will benefit from this thorough guide that is unlike any other on the market.

New Mint Error Type Discovered

by Allan Levy

This is a unique discovery and first reported in Mint Error News. Recently a handful of blank planchets used to strike the Presidential Dollars were discovered in a bag from the U.S. Mint. In it were the following two mint errors, including a newly discovered mint error type. These two blanks were sent to NGC for authentication and certification. The first is a blank planchet with a defective clad layer. The other blank which is the newly discovered error type is a planchet with a burnishing ball wedged into the clad layer.

Burnishing balls are used in the minting process to make the surface of the coin blank brighter and to remove any surface scaling or discoloration. A finishing machine is used that tumbles the coin blanks with a mixture of stainless steel balls and other media like ballcones and special chemicals, which etch and polish and brighten the surface.

This process more than likely caused the damage on the planchet with the defective clad layer authenticated by NGC. These coins are currently available for sale on my website, alsoins.com.

Variety vs. Mint Error

By Dave Camire (ngccoin.com)

Is your coin a variety or a mint error?

Are you confused about varieties and mint errors? Are you unsure which varieties NGC recognizes? We will attempt to shed some light on the subject.

Variety

A variety is a coin that differs from its basic design type in some distinctive way and is thus differentiated by collectors.

The 1960 D/D Sm/Lg Date 1C VP-001 is one such example of a variety. This coin was hubbed first with a large date design, then hubbed again with a small date design. Doubling mostly on the inside of date especially on "960."

What types of varieties does NGC recognize?

- All varieties listed in the VarietyPlus® Catalog (available online)
- Most Cherrypicker varieties by FS numbers
- Half cents by Cohen numbers
- Large cents by Sheldon (1793-1814) and Newcomb (1816-57) numbers
- Half dimes (1794-1837) by Logan-McCloskey numbers
- Dimes (1796-1837) by John Reich numbers
- Quarter dollars (1796-1838) by Browning numbers
- Half dollars (1794-1836) by Overton numbers
- Silver dollars (1794-1804) by Bowers-Borckardt and Bolender numbers

- Selected silver dollars (1878-1935) by VAM numbers (limited to 8TF, 7/8TF, TOP-100 and HOT-50 varieties, as well as only those others listed on VarietyPlus.

For a comprehensive listing of varieties we recognize, visit www.NGCcoin.com/VPcategories. Specific coin details are a benefit of a paid NGC Collectors Society membership.

To receive a variety attribution with uncertified coins being submitted for grading, simply choose VarietyPlus services on your submission form, fill in the column for that line with the type of variety you're seeking (Overton, VAM, VP, etc.) or, if known, the exact variety number.

Note: NGC does not attribute as varieties coins that display Strike Doubling, Abrasion Doubling, Die Deterioration Doubling, Master Die Doubling (doubling that is found on all coins produced from that master die), insignificant die chips, breaks or cracks, or any variety coin that falls under mint tolerances for doubling or normal die wear.

Mint Error

Coins with major mint errors as a result of human or mechanical error during manufacturing.

For the most part, mint error coins fall under one of three headings:

Variety vs. Mint Error

Planchet, Die or Strike. However, some coins are the product of multiple errors. The following are some examples of error coins in these categories:

Planchet Errors

- Clipped Planchet – An incomplete coin missing 10-25% or more of the metal.
- Blank or Planchet – A blank of metal not struck with dies.
- Wrong Planchet – A coin struck on a planchet intended for another denomination or of the wrong metal.

Die Errors

- Defective Die – Coin has raised metal from a large die crack or small rim break. The unstruck area is commonly known as a cud.

Dies may be damaged in other ways, such as having some foreign matter compressed into their surfaces, like bits of wire or fibers.

Strike Errors

- Multiple Strike – Coin has multiple images from being struck again off-center.
- Off-center – Coin has been struck out of collar and incorrectly centered with part of the design missing.
- Broadstrike – A coin struck outside of the retaining collar as a result of the collar jamming or otherwise failing to enclose the planchet.
- Brockage – Mirror image of the design impressed on the opposite side of the same coin as a result of a coin adhering to the die face. Coins will be either two-headed or two-tailed.

NGC does not recognize as mint error coins those with minor die chips, breaks and rotations, etc., that fall within our interpretation of mint tolerance. The determination of what constitutes a mint error is at the discretion of NGC.

For additional information on US mint error coins, see US Mint Error Coins in the NGC Coin Encyclopedia.

Hopefully, this information will clarify whether your coin is a variety or mint error.

Proof Paper Impressions

The accompanying five sheets of 18-weight bond paper, contains seventeen incomplete-to-full strike impressions of Proof coinage from the San Francisco Mint.

These previously unknown examples of Proof Trial strikes were produced at the San Francisco Mint in 1983 to determine the proper striking pressure for minting perfect Proof coinage, using Proof Half dollar and Proof Quarter obverse dies.

These five (5) sheets were obtained directly from a personal friend of Mr. Ed Fulwider, a past Supervisor of the San Francisco Mint. His tenure at the San Francisco Mint lasted for many decades and ended in the mid 1980's.

These sheets have been physically examined by myself and John Devine (aka "Lonesome John"), and both of us are completely convinced that they are unquestionably authentic due to the source, and our detailed examination of them under a Microscope. John Devine recalls direct conversations with Mr. Fulwider regarding these never-before-seen examples, and until authenticating these specific sheets, he had never seen or heard of any other examples.

Although we had heard of such methods used at the San Francisco Mint for preparation in the striking of Proof coinage, these sheets confirm what John Devine was told directly by Mr. Fulwider. They have been in Mr. Fulwider's safe for over twenty years, until he sold them in 2005.

After being involved in Mint Error hobby and being a student of the Minting process for over forty years, it was stunning and breathtaking the first time I was handed this set of Proof Trial Strikings. They are authentic coinage strikings from genuine U.S. Proof Coin Dies, in a non-metallic medium.

Misdated Presidential Dollar Excites Error Collectors

By Dave Camire (ngccoin.com)

NGC recently authenticated a 2009 D Zachary Taylor Presidential $1 coin bearing the date 2010 D on its lettered edge.

NGC has certified a Zachary Taylor Presidential $1 coin that bears the date 2010 D. The Zachary Taylor coin was the fourth Presidential dollar released in 2009 and should correctly bear the date 2009, not 2010. This is the first time that the wrong date has been reported on an edge-lettered US dollar.

The date on each Presidential $1 coin appears on its edge and is applied by an edge lettering die after the obverse and reverse are struck with a blank collar. Because edge lettering is an additional and subsequent step, it has been the source of several types of novel mint error coins. Most common among these errors is partial edge lettering, which occurs when a coin gets hung up in the edge lettering machine and part of the edge lettering is not impressed. Another error is missing edge lettering; that error occurs when a coin misses the edge lettering step entirely. A third error type that has been encountered is doubled edge lettering, which is created when a coin passes through the edge lettering machine twice.

2010-dated Zachary Taylor $1 coin in its NGC holder. It has been encapsulated so that the errant date shows at the 12:00 position in the holder.

Misdated Presidential Dollar Excites Error Collectors

While there are many possible explanations for how this incorrect date error may have occurred, its story is seemingly revealed by the coins that accompanied it. This error coin was included in a roll of 2010 D Native American $1 Coins that were purchased using the US Mint's Direct Ship Program. Since only this lone Zachary Taylor

$1 was found in the roll, one can speculate that the same machinery was used to strike 2010 D Native American dollars after completing a run of 2009 D Zachary Taylor dollars. A coin was left behind somewhere between striking and edge lettering became mixed with Native American dollars headed for the edge lettering process, and was thus inscribed with the wrong date.

Because of where this coin was found, it does not suggest that a large run of error coins were made 2010-dated Zachary Taylor $1 coin, showing obverse with exploded view of the complete edge lettering.

Misdated Presidential Dollar Excites Error Collectors

and, therefore, this type of error coin may remain a significant rarity.

The authentication process was overseen by NGC special consultant and mint error expert, David J. Camire, who comments on the significance of this discovery: “The error coins that result from a cross pollination of Presidential dollars and Sacagawea or Native American dollars are unquestionably some of the most exciting error coins coming out of any mint today. Not only do they provide unique insight into the production process of the Mint, but they emerge in unexpected ways and in incredible discoveries. We had long speculated that an incorrect date error might be found, and we’ve been waiting three years for it!”

Summer 2010 & Current Error Market Conditions

By Rich Schemmer (richerrors.com)

After attending several major auctions since January and most lately the auctions at the ANA Convention in Boston (2010), we have made a very fair evaluation of the current Numismatic Error Market.

With Coin dealers having great problems locating new modern errors from past sources along with many of the current economic woes many of us are experiencing, many dealers are experiencing some lows in sales at shows, while show expenses seem to continue rising. What you may see from that group of events is that dealers are choosing more carefully what shows they attend. This will reduce their overall costs.

Now on to the GOOD NEWS. Many old error collections are starting to enter the market, whether it's just time to sell or for economic reasons. We are seeing some older collections surfacing for sale to both dealers and in major auctions. Those entering the auctions are drawing numerous bids and record setting prices. That's right, some unbelievable prices are being paid for these better coins.

Remember, a few months ago, we recommended watching better high grade Nickels struck on Cents. Well, at the 2010 ANA Auction some that graded MS 66 sold in the $2,000 range. That's right. that wasn't a typo, I said, TWO THOUSAND DOLLAR range. Now hold on! ONE 1999 Nickel on cent graded MS 67 RED sold for $4,000. FOUR Thousand dollars. How about a 15 cent piece, Nickel struck over a Struck DIME dated 1977 graded MS 67 sold for $5,600. This has to tell you that while many of us are experiencing economic woes, those who still have extra dollars available are investing in BETTER Numismatic High End errors. Those better prices were not only seen on the few error coins I just mentioned, but also on many, many others. I saw very few, if any, so-called Cherry Picking out there.

As far as walking the floor at the ANA Convention and locating errors, only 1 major error dealer had a corner table and the rest of us searched the bourse for material. I was lucky enough to set-up with a friend for 1 day and sold quite a few errors in that 1 day. As far as those regular coin dealers who may have had any errors in their cases, their errors were extremely over priced.

So there you have it. We feel the Error Coin market is still amazingly STRONG. Most better errors seem to be finding their way into the major auction houses, maybe because of their wide customer reach with the use of the Internet and live bidding methods. I would keep an eye on all the upcoming major auctions for errors and utilize the Internet to bid on them.

New Book: 100 Greatest US Error Coins

By NGC (ngccoin.com)

The newest entry in Whitman Publishing's 100 Greatest series is a landmark book for collectors of error coins.

Whitman Publishing has released 100 Greatest US Error Coins, by Nicholas Brown, David Camire and Fred Weinberg. The book debuted at the American Numismatic Association World's Fair of Money in Boston, August 11, 2010.

In this richly illustrated coffee table book, three of America's best-known error coin specialists take the reader on a personal guided tour of the remarkable misstrikes and other oddities produced by the US Mint.

100 Greatest US Error Coins is the seventh entry in Whitman Publishing's 100 Greatest library. It follows books that showcase coins, paper money, medals and tokens, comic books and stamps.

"Each of the 100 Greatest error coins was voted into place by leading coin dealers, collectors, researchers and historians," said Whitman publisher Dennis Tucker. Inside, the reader will find prized and seldom-seen rarities — the unique and high-valued pieces collectors dream about. The book also explores more readily available and widely popular error coins. All of them have a special "How'd that happen?" quality, and the authors explain how each error occurred.

Forewords by Richard Doty (senior curator of numismatics at the Smithsonian Institution) and Douglas Mudd (curator of the ANA's Edward C. Rochette Money Museum) welcome the reader to this fascinating part of the hobby.

The introduction by Q. David Bowers includes a historical narrative on the

"You can learn a tremendous amount about how things were supposed to go, when they didn't."

— Richard Doty, senior curator of numismatics, the Smithsonian Institution

US Mint, numismatic aspects of error coins and the history of error coin collecting in the United States.

"Errors have grown into one of the hobby's most active fields in recent years," the authors note.

A two-page spread is devoted to each of coins nos. 1 through 10, with nos. 11 through 100 enjoying a full page. In the banner at the top of each page is the coin's rank, a descriptive title and the quantity known. Essays describe the errors, how they were made, the circumstances of their discovery and other interesting details. These essays are illustrated with enlarged photographs and images of related errors. A summary of each coin's market value going back to 1980 is included.

The book is rounded out by an in-depth, heavily illustrated appendix on the minting process, how error coins are made and how they get out of the mint. This section's photographs include never-before-published images from inside the US Mint's operations. A second appendix covers the famous "golden dollar mules" (with the obverse of a state quarter), including a detailed registry of the 10 specimens discovered so far.

"100 Greatest US Error Coins is not just a value guide or a fancy picture book," said Tucker. "It's a doorway that takes the reader to a hundred different points in the Mint's production processes, most of which have been kept secret for years. And it's a fascinating introduction to the hobby of collecting these important coins."

Broadstrikes and brockages, off-centers and wrong planchets, die caps and double strikes and mules — all of these and more await the reader in 100 Greatest US Error Coins.

The book is coffee table-size, 144 pages, full color, with stories for every coin, and more than 500 illustrations. Retail price is $29.95. 100 Greatest US Error Coins is available online (including at WhitmanBooks.com) and at hobby shops and bookstores nationwide.

The Combined Organizations of Numismatic Error Collectors of America

CONECA is a national numismatic organization devoted to the education of error and variety coin collectors. CONECA focuses on many error and variety specialties, including doubled dies, Repunched mintmarks, multiple errors, clips, double strikes, off-metals and off-centers -- just to name a few. It publishes an educational magazine, The Errorscope, which is printed and mailed to members bimonthly. CONECA offers a lending library, examination, listing and attribution services; it holds annual meetings at major conventions (referred to as Errorama) around the country, and offers auction services to its members. Please visit conecaonline.org and enjoy!

CONECA Variety Attribution Services

CONECA offers two attribution services. One service enables members and non-members to send their coins directly to an authorized CONECA attributer. The other service is offered through the numismatic grading firm of ICG and enables CONECA members and non-members to have their coins attributed by a CONECA attributer and then graded and slabbed by ICG.

CONECA Error Examination Services

CONECA offers two examination services. One service enables members and non-members to send coins to an authorized CONECA examiner who will return an opinion of each coin's error classification. The other service is offered through the numismatic grading firm of ICG and enables CONECA members and non-members to have their coins examined by a CONECA examiner and then graded and slabbed by ICG.

Mint Error News Price Guide

This price guide is brought to you by Mint Error News. It has been compiled by many of the top major mint error dealers.

This price guide is a guide. Prices fluctuate due to the date, grade, eye appeal and how dramatic the striking error is. Rarity is also a factor. The price is sometimes based on the rarity and grade of the type of coin as well as how rare the error is. The price can also vary depending on whether two collectors are bidding for the same rare major mint error. When purchasing a mint error, it is important to use multiple resources to determine value, as there are many mint errors that do not fit into one category.

Proof Errors

Proof coins are struck by technicians who hand feed the blanks into special presses. They are produced, examined, and packaged using extreme quality control. It is very unusual to find major proof errors. A few broadstrikes, off-centers, double strikes in collars and off-metals have been known to be found in sealed proof sets. Proof errors are aggressively sought after by many error collectors.

A very small group of Proof errors recently came from a collection that was auctioned by the State of California. The U.S. Secret Service inspected and released this collection to the State of California determining that it was legal to own. The State of California then auctioned the collection and it has been dispersed since the sale.

Mint Error News Price Guide

Broadstrikes

A broadstruck error occurs when a coin is struck without the collar to form the rim and edge that is part of the shape of the coin. Coins can be broadstruck on either type one or type two planchets. When a coin is broadstruck the blank being fed into the collar will spread and distort outward as it is being struck because the collar isn't in the correct position to retain it.

Partial Collars

Partial collar strikes occur when there is a malfunction of the striking press. This causes the collar to be in an incorrect position. The lower die (usually the reverse die) is recessed in the collar. This allows the coin which is going to be struck to have a formed rim. After a coin is struck the lower die raises upwards, pushing the struck coin out of the collar and ejecting it. If a blank entering the collar is not properly seated, it will only have partial reeding as it is struck. The edge of this coin will have a partial reeding and a partial blank surface area. Recently, the Mint has installed new machinery where either die can be installed in either position.

Uniface Strikes

Uniface coins occur when there have been two blank planchets in the press at the same time. The other blank will obstruct the die on either the obverse or reverse side, which will prevent it from having that design on the coin. There are many different variations involving uniface errors. In addition to having a 100% blank obverse or reverse, a coin can be struck off-center, with a blank planchet in the collar which will obstruct one side of the off-center. There are also mated pairs which have a combination of multiple errors which can include a side which is uniface. Finally, there are uniface strikes due to a die cap which adhered to the die, forming itself in the shape of a die and striking blank planchets.

Bonded Coins

Bonded coins occur when the feeder system, which supplies blank planchets to the coin press, malfunctions and jams. When this occurs, a struck coin is not properly ejected and another planchet is fed into the collar and is struck. This struck coin will land on top of the previously unejected strike. These coins will then crush and bond together. This may occur many times as more coins bond.

Coins Struck on Feeder Finger Tips

After a recent tour of the U.S. Mint in Philadelphia, it was discovered that the minting process had changed to some degree. One of the changes was that “feeder fingers” were used during the striking of all denominations of U.S. coins. Prior to this tour, U.S. coins that were struck on feeder finger tips were authenticated and described as being struck on aluminum scrap. Coins from all modern denominations have been discovered that were struck on the tips of these feeder fingers.

Struck Fragments

The blanking press takes the coils of metal strips and punches blanks out of it, ejecting the webbing at the other end. The webbing is cut into small scrap pieces to be melted and recycled. Occasionally a scrap piece will be mixed with the blank planchets and struck by the dies. Struck fragments are rare in the larger denominations. These can be uniface or die struck both sides and are very rare on type coins.

Mated Pairs

Mated pairs involve two individual coins with different errors that were struck together at the same time. Mated pair error combinations can be found in most error types and come in many shapes and sizes. Mated pairs can be overlapped when one of the coins is struck off-center on top of another coin. Another type involves a brockage where a struck coin was perfectly centered on a blank and restruck. Some mated pairs involve a die cap where the cap and brockage coin are discovered together, but this is a scarce find.

The rarest mated pair type involves two die caps (obverse and reverse) where both dies were capped at the same time and both die caps are mated. This last type is extremely rare and there are only a few known examples of mated pairs involving an obverse die cap and reverse die cap. There are several of these mated pairs known on Kennedy Halves including two dated 1976, which is the Bicentennial year. One of the most spectacular mated pairs involve two Barber Dimes, an obverse die cap mated to a reverse die cap and are unique.

Mated pairs can also involve an off-metal where a smaller blank planchet or smaller struck coin was struck on top of a larger coin. This type is extremely rare. The most spectacular pair known is a double struck Franklin Half which was mated to a Lincoln Cent. The Lincoln Cent blank was on top of the obverse of the struck Franklin Half. This pair was then struck together. It is unique.

Transitional Errors

A transitional error occurs when a coin is struck on a planchet from a previous year with different metal composition. The most famous transitional is a 1943 copper cent struck on a 1942 copper blank. 1943 cents were struck in steel because of the copper shortage during World War II. Other famous transitionals include 1965 coinage struck in silver instead of clad.

There are also transitionals struck on blanks for the next year. An example is 1964 coinage in clad instead of silver. Most recently, transitionals were discovered involving the SBA and Sacagawea Dollars of 1999 and 2000. There are eight known 1999 SBA Dollars struck on the brass planchet for the 2000 Sacagawea Dollar, and four known 2000 Sacagawea Dollars struck on a clad planchet for the 1999 SBA Dollar.

U.S. Gold Errors

Major mint errors on U.S. Gold coins are the most prized category of all mint errors. Gold errors are very rare and a few have traded in the $75,000 to $100,000 range. Even a broadstruck U.S. Gold coin can easily sell for $15,000 to $30,000 compared to a broadstruck Cent, Nickel, Dime or Quarter which all sell for well under $10. Many serious collectors of Gold Errors have to wait patiently for months and sometimes even years to acquire that one special piece for their collection.

The prices listed here are for common dates in AU-Unc. Better dates and errors that are in gem condition are worth considerably more.

Indents

An indent error occurs when two blanks are fed inadvertently into the same collar, with one blank partly overlaying on top of the other. When the hammer die strikes this combination, the upper blank will be forced into the lower blank, creating a depression which is shaped similar to the upper blank. A scarce type of indent occurs when a blank intended for one denomination lands on top of a blank from a different denomination.

Die Caps

Die caps are caused when a struck coin sticks to the upper hammer die. Once the coin is struck to the die face, the reverse of the struck coin becomes the new die face. When the next blank is fed into the collar and the strike occurs, the reverse design of the adhered struck coin impresses itself into the new blank. This struck coin is a brockage strike. The coin that adhered to the upper die is known as a die cap. This process repeats itself as more coins are struck by the cap. The greater the number of strikes, the higher the cap metal will be pushed around the upper die shaft. Eventually, the cap brakes away from the die in the shape of a thimble.

Die Adjustment Strikes

Die adjustment strikes are also known as die trials. This error occurs when a coin is struck from the press with very little pressure. When the press is being set up and adjusted, extremely weak strikes occur as the strike pressure reaches its optimum level. These die trials are destroyed after being struck and are rarely found in circulation.

Double Denominations

One of the most expensive, popular, and desired types of errors are the double denominations. This error happens when a coin is struck on a previously struck coin of a smaller denomination. Examples are a cent on a struck dime, and a nickel on a struck cent. The most dramatic are those with considerable design visible from the original strike. There are a few known double denominations with different dates.

Brockages

A brockage error can only occur when there are two coins involved. One of the coins involved will always be a struck coin which has not ejected properly. That struck coin will find its way back between the dies and will be struck next to a blank planchet which was fed into the collar. The image of that first struck coin will be impressed into that side of the blank planchet. The result will be a second coin which has images of the first coin impressed into it. Those images will be pressed into the coin and the image will be in reverse. This incuse sunken image is known as a brockage.

Double & Multiple Strikes

When a blank planchet is struck by the dies, the normal procedure is for the feeders to eject the struck coin out of the collar and into a chute. If there is a malfunction and the struck coin isn't ejected, it may receive a second or third strike by the dies. A multiple struck coin can happen in many ways and have many combinations of errors.

(Since each double and multiple strike can vary from being 10% off-center to 90% off-center, the prices listed below can be substantially more based on the percent off-center and dramatic overall look.)

Off-Center Strikes

Off-center coins are one of the most common and best known types of errors. This happens when a blank which is supposed to be fed into the press, lands in the collar improperly. When this occurs only part of the blank is between the upper and lower dies. When the dies strike the blank, only that part will be struck with a design.

Off-Metals

Off-metal and wrong planchet errors occur when a correctly made blank from one denomination is accidentally fed into a press for another denomination. Examples are a nickel struck on a cent planchet and a cent struck on a dime planchet. The coin struck on an incorrect blank will weigh exactly what the denomination of that blank would have been. An even more dramatic wrong planchet error is a coin struck on a previously struck coin of a different metal.

Counterbrockages

A counterbrockage error involves a cap die and a previously struck coin. When a cap die strikes a previously struck coin, the obverse design from that struck coin will be impressed into the cap. The result will be a design where the cap face will be an incuse brockage. When a new blank is struck by this cap die with an incuse brockage image, the obverse will have a raised and spread image from that incuse design of the cap. This brockage impression is known as a counterbrockage.

Fold-Over Strikes

A fold-over coin is one of the most dramatic types of errors. It occurs when the blank is standing vertically between the dies. During the strike, the force is so great that it bends and folds the blank. These fold-overs can be on-center or off-center, and come in many different shapes. There are a few fold-overs with multiple errors, either with an additional strike or fold-over. Denominations above quarters are very scarce.

Martha Washington Test Pieces

There is one set of a Dime, Quarter and Half struck by Martha Washington dies that are permanently housed in the Smithsonian Institute, embedded in blocks of lucite. According to United States Pattern and Related Issues, by Andrew W. Pollock III, “the only trial pieces purported to have survived metallurgical testing in 1965 were the Dime, Quarter Dollar, and Half Dollar equivalent strikes in copper-nickel clad over copper.”

Mike Byers’ discovery of the Martha Washington Test Piece on a copper-zinc Cent planchet struck 10% off-center with a uniface reverse was a front page Coin World article on August 7th, 2000.

Coin Auctions Help

U.S. Coin Information - Guides - News - Forum

Coinauctionshelp.com is not a coin auctions website, but help for United States coin collectors who do buy coins at online auctions, but we are still much more than that. Besides being the fastest growing coin site on the web, we offer coin guides, facts, news, pictures, price guides, third party grading information, coin site links, and targeted ebay coin auctions for every major U.S. Coin series minted. If you can't find the coin or information you need, send us an email and we will send it to you and add it to our site. Let us do the research for you!

Targeted Coin Links:

First, let's talk about our targeted ebay coin auctions. Simply put, we do the ebay coin auction search for you. We spent months building links at ebay for every U.S. Coin series, and often for each date in the series. We did our best to eliminate irrelevant coin auctions so the user can click a link and go directly to only the coin type or date they wish to buy.

Although, our searches are not perfect because some coins are so rare that they are not listed on ebay often, and there are many sellers on ebay that use keyword spamming in their ebay auctions. However, most of our searches have eliminated this problem, so you don't have to spend hours trying to find the exact coin you need for your collection.

Plus, the sales generated from these links allow us to continue providing all the free information on this website.

If a certain date is not listed on ebay after you click a link, it means one is not listed at the present, but might be in the near future. So always check back often so you don't miss out on an opportunity for that rare and valuable coin!

Facts And Pictures:

We offer a page for every U.S. Coin series. A list of the page links can be found by clicking the Coin Facts tab on the navigation bar. Our coin facts pages offer the collector large pictures with important features pointed out so the mint mark, designer initials, denomination, and other design elements to allow for proper identification of coin type and varieties of that coin series. Also, each page contains important facts about the coin type, a list of rare and valuable dates for "cherry pickers", a price guide and the targetable links we mentioned earlier.

We add new information to these pages often, and at site visitors request. So check back to see what's new or ask to be added to our email list and receive email updates and contained in our Newsletter.

Coin News And Guides:

Although, we offer the latest U.S. coin news on our homepage, we don't limit the reporting to just what everyone else reports, but we find news that other site ignore or don't know about yet. Often, we will have a news articles posted on our site before the latest issue of Coin World comes out!

We offer news for latest auction sales, mint error discoveries, third party grading services, and offer guides on featured coin types, mint errors, fake coins, cleaning and identifying cleaned coins, grading coins, and many more guides to help the collector be better informed. Basically we report on the major sales and finds, and on the obscure news which allows us to offer our readers news and guides they can't find anywhere else.

In conclusion, this is about us in the brief, but in no way describes what we do completely as we our always updating and adding to coinauctionshelp.com to make the coin collector's hobby more informative, exciting and safe. We gladly answer questions and take suggestions because only you, the visitor, know what makes a good coin site, a great coin site.

MINT*ERROR*NEWS GLOSSARY

What are Bonded Coins?

Bonded coins occur when the feeder system, which supplies blank planchets to the coin press, malfunctions and jams. When this occurs, a struck coin is not properly ejected and another planchet is fed into the collar and is struck. This struck coin will land on top of the previously unejected strike. These coins will then crush and bond together. This may occur many times as more coins bond.

This Lincoln Cent has been bonded on three irregularly shaped copper-zinc planchets.
